Letters To The Editor

In prose and verse, our readers tell us of their support for beleaguered Timonium and why it should remain as a race track.

A Grandfather Worth Quoting

Sir:

May I introduce myself? My name is Jimmy Mulla. I am 14 and a student at Brother Martin School in our city.

I am one of those lucky persons to be blessed with wonderful Grandparents. I wish all people were.

It's about my Grandfather I would like to talk. He is a Gentleman of leisure, but not by choice (through reasons of health).

He ran away from home at the age of 13 and went to work walking hots for a horseman by the name of Mr. Kirby. He is the gentleman who developed Bob Fennerty and Johnny Corcoran who rode so successfully for the Greentree Stable throughout the East many years ago.

He often speaks of tracks in Maryland as of some long departed friends. He keeps abreast of all the goings on through the horse magazines. He sometimes writes poems, balls them up and tosses them away. I managed to save this one. I hope you like it. I do.

Yours truly,
Jimmy Mulla
New Orleans, Louisiana

The Maryland half-milers are gone with Timonium's life now ebbing away.

*It began with history back many yesterdays.
What has become of the true sportsmen? There don't seem to be many of them around today.*

*Many a good horse came a running from out of those bappy and hustling days
For those bull rings turned out runners that defeated some of the best horses of their days.*

The half-milers also developed a lot of good horsemen who reached the top to stay.

The half-milers were called the bull ring, the leaky roof circuit and the little apple in their days.

The horsemen were known as gyps of the frying pan brigade.

They were the best of cooks and knew all the right words to say.

The horses never did without, they always had their oats and hay and given the best of care,

Although the help never missed a meal theirs were a long time in between.

Things will be better at the next town for the grass will be spring green.

*When memory blows a bugle and the sound of taps go floating on the Maryland air,
It will be for Hagerstown, Cumberland, Marlboro, Timonium and Bel Air*

And for all those forgotten race tracks that memory refuses to share.

To all of those grand people and the sportsmen who knew of those wonderful days,

May you always crowd together where horses run and play

And may your hereafter be as enjoyable as a picnic day.

If I have a second childhood, please let it begin to the musical strain of "Maryland My Maryland"

And as the horses parade before the grandstand, may the lucky owner be a gyp from the yesterdays

To saddle the winner of the big one and to greet the Governor in the winner's circle on Preakness day

And may his memories go galloping back to those half-milers of many yesterdays.

Willie,
The Groom

In Defense Of Timonium

Sir:

I thought you and the Maryland Horse Breeders members would like to know how I feel about the Maryland State Fair and what I am doing about it. So am enclosing a letter on the subject which I wrote to Governor Mandel last month. Have sent copies of this letter to some of State senators and delegates and interested friends.

Sincerely,
Elizabeth Douglas Williams
(Mrs. Charles W. Williams)
Hampstead, Md.

Dear Governor Mandel:

Now, at the conclusion of the Maryland State Fair, which I have attended six times in the past ten days, I am writing to protest the transfer of racing from Timonium to any of the larger tracks.

The Fair, the famous Maryland State Fair, will have to close permanently without the support of the race track. Of this we are all aware as this season we understand that the reduced track attendance is definitely hurting the income from the track.

As a horseman, as well as an exhibitor, I believe that one of the main difficulties is our parking problem. It would seem to me that if the Fair itself could be held at a different time than the racing, there would be plenty of space for the Fair attendance and later for the race goers. I plan to take this up with the Fair Management as I have already discussed it with the horsemen, but I do feel that your support is necessary to save the Fair.

You probably realize how much the Fair means to cattle breeders, farmers, horse breeders, 4-H, small children, horticulturists, garden clubs, and the thousands of people who look forward year after year to their days and evenings of enjoyment at Timonium. Please do what you can to save it.

As "A Friend of The Maryland State Fair," I am asking you, "Don't let any powerful, vested interests take away the Maryland State Fair from the people of Maryland. Don't let those forces take away horse racing as the financial support for the State Fair."

Another Timonium Booster

Sir:

Your editorial in regards to Timonium strikes home. My late husband, Albert, and I both loved Timonium. The fair and racing were one.

Please do all you can to keep the fair and racing always one.

Do you remember how Mr. Matt Daiger, Mrs. Daiger and all the rest of us put our little bits of money in stock to keep it from being turned into a manufacturing site?

Seems like people these days forget tradition and all the grand memories we cherish. Timonium was and always will be part of our lives.

My best to you and all who remember my Albert.

Sincerely,
Martha Dosh
Reisterstown, Md.

Our Apologies To Elkridge-Harford

Sir:

When I read my MARYLAND HORSE after I returned from a trip to Greece, I noticed several errors that I feel should be corrected.

The most glaring mistakes are on page 59 where you list Miles Jones as kennelman for the Elkridge-Harford Hunt. Some time ago your magazine ran a nice obituary about Mr. Jones, so I consider this mistake completely unnecessary. On this same page Mr. S. Bryce Wing is listed as secretary when Mrs. Robert L. Riggs is actually honorary secretary.

Then on page 57 I am described as still hunting with the club. This is wishful thinking for although I have been a member for 34 years, I haven't hunted for the last fifteen.

Sincerely yours,
Jane Fowler Bassett
Monkton, Md.

Apologies, Too, To Howard County

Sir:

An error in the September issue of your magazine should, I think, be corrected. The Howard County Hunt Club's honorary secretary is John C. Vaeth, not Col. T. C. Marmon.

I thoroughly enjoyed the section you devoted to foxhunting. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
H. L. Welsh, MFH

THE NEWMARKET GALLERY

Secretariat

A limited edition of fine lithographs after the original painting by

Richard Stone Reeves

As the racing career of the great American Triple Crown Champion draws to a close, the executors of the Estate of the late Mr. C. T. Chenery have authorized an official limited edition of signed, numbered lithographs—to commemorate Secretariat's two years of total dominance in the world of thoroughbred racing.

Mr. Richard Stone Reeves, acknowledged by most experts as the leading painter of racehorses in the world, was the only artist invited by Mrs. Penny Tweedy to visit and paint her family's Champion.

The edition is restricted to 850 only, world-wide—a number of which have been reserved for the admirers of America's greatest racehorse in Australia, Japan, the British Isles, France, South America and Canada.

The Newmarket Gallery has been entrusted with this edition by the Chenery Estate. It is perhaps one of the most important sporting art editions ever produced—a unique tribute to a unique racehorse, the like of which we may not see again in our lifetime.

PERSONALLY AUTOGRAPHED

The lithographs will be superlative, each one handed by a master printmaker onto the same 19th-century French lithograph-press once used, in noteworthy coincidence, by Toulouse-Lautrec and the other race-course Impressionists, Manet and Degas. The fine art paper was especially imported from Paris.

Mr. Reeves and Mrs. Tweedy will personally inspect each print before the artist signs and numbers them. They will also be individually autographed by Mr. Lucien Laurin, Secretariat's trainer, and by Mr. Ron Turcotte, his jockey. Mr. Reeves, to illuminate these signatures, has made two small paintings for the bottom margin—in one corner Secretariat charging to victory; in the other a portrait of Turcotte in the famous blue and white silks of the Meadow Stable.

The painting shows the colt standing against a background of the Claiborne Farm, Kentucky, where he will spend the remainder of his days. He is outlined against a luminous sky, in the classic manner favored by George Stubbs and Sir Alfred Munnings, to whom Richard Stone Reeves is regarded as the natural successor.

The lithograph costs $325.00 (or £130). And we guarantee to buy it back at any time in the coming years for the full price, providing it is undamaged.

Upon the completion of the 850, the lithograph plates will be destroyed. No signed, numbered edition of this painting will ever be issued again. If you would like to be an original owner complete the order form below. Please allow six weeks for delivery.

World champion skeet shooter Kit Brooks displays the many shooting patches she has won. With her, one of her English pointers she uses for quail and dove hunting.

DAVE AND KIT BROOKS PURCHASE McLENNAN FARM

Story by Snowden Carter

Photographs by Walter M. Ball

Except for their surprising purchase early this year of a share in Secretariat, David and Katharine Brooks have attracted little national attention with their small horse operation. But don't be misled into thinking that the Towson (Md.) automobile dealer hasn't been busy building a truly fine selection of broodmares. Give the Brooks a few more years, and they'll be big on the national scene—if Secretariat clicks as a sire, the broodmares produce to their top potential and that big thing called luck keeps running their way.

Last month Dave and Kit put their package all together with the purchase of Mrs. Charles J. McLennan's 125-acre Welcome Here Farm in Glyndon. Already beautifully appointed (25 stalls, excellent fencing), Welcome Here should make the Brooks a perfect farm for the raising of foals by Secretariat and other top stallions.

The Brooks didn't start off in the horse business thinking in terms of $100,000 broodmares and 6 million dollar stallions. They began ten years ago by purchasing for $5,000 a filly named Miss Ceramic. During the six years which followed they bought and raced "middle class" horses—animals that made their livelihood in claimers.

Then, in 1969, those close to Dave and Kit were startled to read that the Maryland couple had spent $25,000 at the dispersal of the Guggenheim horses to acquire a yearling filly by Never Bend out of Cherokee Rose. Named Shoshanna, the filly failed to stand training and was retired.

Those with faint hearts might have given up. After all, when a man spends $25,000 for a yearling he usually wants something more than a broodmare prospect.

But the setback with Shoshanna was taken in stride by Dave and Kit. And, at the 1971 Saratoga auctions, they purchased another well-bred filly—this one by Vertex out of Pride of Paris. The yearling (named Voler) cost $76,000.

Quite fortunately for the Brooks, they chose Lucien Laurin to train Voler. It was a good selection not only because Laurin did well with Voler (the filly placed in three stakes and earned nearly $50,000) but also because Laurin was the trainer of Secretariat, and it was through this circumstance that the Brooks were offered the opportunity of purchasing a share in the Triple Crown winner.

So early this year Dave and Kit bought one of Secretariat's shares for $190,000. Since then the horse's value has soared to such heights that Mr. Brooks now says he wouldn't sell his share for $750,000.

Welcome Here Farm, the 125-acre property in Worthington Valley recently purchased by Dave and Kit Brooks. Dave Brooks (at right) discusses his future plans for the farm where foals by Secretariat will romp.

Which of his mares will he breed to the horse in 1974?

"I think I'll sell the 1974 service," says the Buick dealer, "and send Voler to him in 1975. I don't know how much I'll get for next year's service. I'm sure I can get at least $50,000. In fact one horse dealer told me he thought I should ask for $50,000 non-refundable and then another $50,000 when the foal hits the ground."

Would the Brookses be amenable to delaying Secretariat's retirement for another year, sending him to stud in 1975 instead of 1974?

"I'd be strongly opposed to that, and there's no chance of it happening," replied Brooks. "We have a firm contract which clearly states the horse will be retired this fall.

"Supposing the contract were changed and the horse raced next year for the entire 32-share syndicate. What would the shareholders get out of it? Say Secretariat earned a million dollars in 1974. Divide that by 32 and you get about $31,000. At stud he's worth three times as much."

Asked how it happened that in 1969 they went from middle-class horses to the big-time, Brooks said: "Experience. We found out that to do good in the horse business you have to go first class. So instead of dribbling our money away on a lot of cheap horses, we decided to concentrate it all into one or two really good purchases.

"Of course our first experiment looked like a bad one when Shoshanna broke down before starting, but actually she's been a good investment for us. We sold her first foal (a colt by Advocator) this year at Saratoga for $44,000. So with that one yearling we recovered Shoshanna's purchase price ($25,000) and paid for the stud fee ($5,000) on Advocate."

Voler, of course, was an even better buy at $76,000. Now retired because of a bowed tendon she did all of her racing exclusively on the Big Apple (New York and Hialeah), winning four races and finishing second in the Prioress and third in the Acorn and Comely. The value of a good foal out of this mare sired by Secretariat is astronomical to contemplate.

"We won't be able to sleep," said Mr. Brooks, "when we have Voler and her Secretariat foal turned out here on our farm. I guess we'll be jumping up every hour to run out and look at them to make sure they're all right."

And should Dave find a prowler, he'll be certain to call on his wife to handle the gun.

Mrs. Brooks happens to have been a world's champion woman skeet shooter (1959, 1960) and still loves to hunt quail and doves with her three English Pointers.

Mrs. Brooks retired from competitive skeet shooting shortly before her second marriage in 1961. And she doesn't think that she retired quite as sound as Secretariat will "because I have a disc problem in my neck that was aggravated by the recoil from so much shooting."

Collectively, the Brookses have four children. Kit's only child is John (Jay) Dinning, a 21-year-old employee of a Towson auctioneering firm. Dave's three children are Mrs. Helen Howard, Daniel Bosley Brooks, 3d, and Nancy Lee Brooks. Mrs. Howard made Dave a grandfather four years ago when she gave birth to a son (Colin).

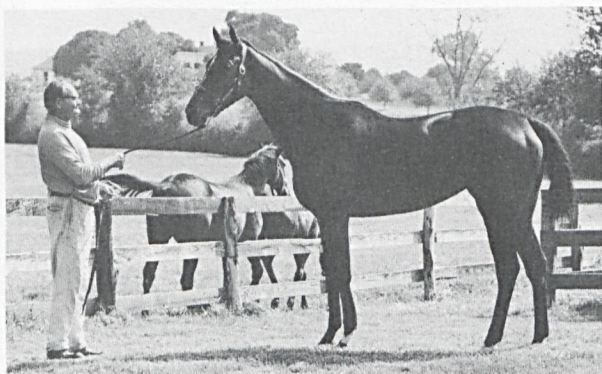

None of the children live with Dave and Kit in their new Worthington Valley home.

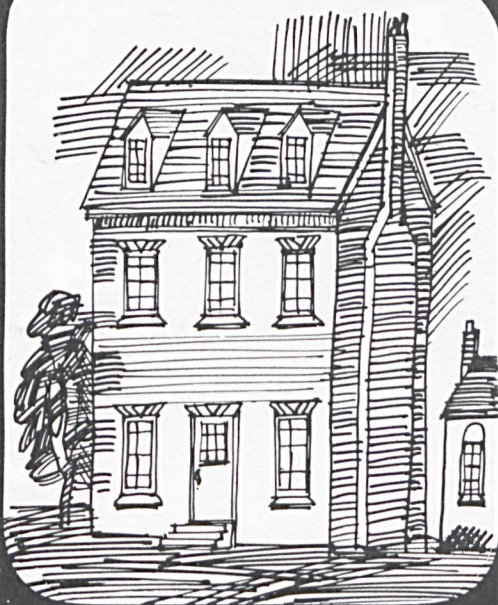

"Jay was with us until this year," said his step-father. "But now he's decided he'd rather have an apartment of his own. Actually, this new house is a little large for the two of us—we think maybe in the years ahead we may sell off the house with a couple of acres and build a new home on top of the hill."

Voler (right), purchased at Saratoga for $76,000, is the mare Dave Brooks plans to send to Secretariat in 1975. Now at the Worthington Valley farm, she is proudly shown by Wade Sweeney.

Kit Brooks (below) feeds home-grown fresh carrots to Farleyer, one of the broodmares on the farm. In the background, the eighteenth century farmhouse that is the Brooks' new home.

If the Brookses actually decide to put their new home on the market, they should have little trouble finding a buyer. The house has been on the "Maryland Pilgrimage" tour and is described in a brochure as having been built between 1713 and 1749. It is charming—from attic to cellar. And it was, incidentally, in the cellar that a vault (still there) was used as a bank depository for neighboring Baltimore countians prior to the Revolutionary War. □

When does a mare really wean her foal?

Although a mare and foal may run together, this is no guarantee she is lactating or that her milk supply is sufficient. Many mares partly or completely wean their foals younger than their owners might suspect.

As the nutrients supplied by mare's milk decrease, the foal becomes more dependent on other nutrient sources. To achieve a favorable growth rate, many breeders place the responsibility for foal nutrition on a supplemental or "creep" feed—so named because it can be fed in a unit called a "creep feeder."

If early weaning occurs without a creep feed, the drop in nutrient intake can interrupt the foal's normal growth and leave it in an unattractive, weakened condition. On the contrary, if creep feeding is used to provide the nutrients not supplied by mare's milk or pasture, early weaning may actually benefit the foal by getting weaning stress over with at an earlier age.

Purina Research has developed a creep feeding program for lightweight foals coming from mares with poor milk supplies or foals being weaned shortly after reaching weights of 300 pounds, which can be as early as 2 to 3 months of age. This program appears on the back of the Purina® Big 'Un® bag and in the Purina Horse Book offered below.

Plans for building a creep feeding unit may also be ordered on this form. By sending in the proof of purchase seal on either the Purina Big 'Un or the Purina Horse Chow® Checkers® bag with 50¢, you can get a Purina Horse Height/Weight Tape to help measure the foal's growth in body weight and height at the withers.

The results of a foal feeding program can be good—or they can be bad—but they are almost always irreversible. For this reason Ralston Purina Company offers a comprehensive program of nutritional information which you may order from Checkerboard Square with this form.

Windfields Farm Consignment Top Attraction During Record-Breaking Eastern Fall Sale

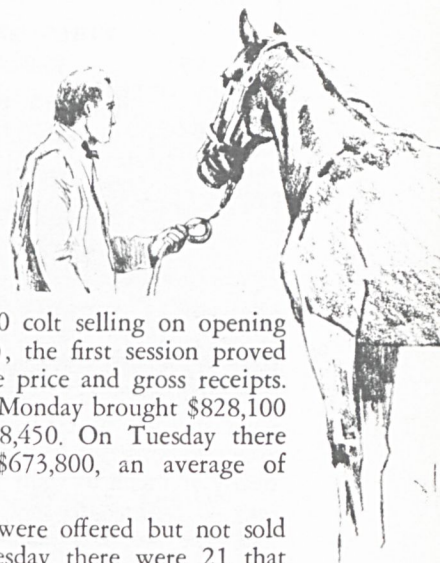

With E. P. Taylor's consignment generating more than 25 per cent of the total dollar volume, the 13th annual Eastern Fall Sales was the best in history last month with new records set for average price and gross sales.

Mr. Taylor's Windfields Farm consignment consisted of 22 horses, all of which went into the ring with announced reserve bids. Fifteen of the group were sold, including the sale's topper—a colt by Northern Dancer out of *Queen's Statute who brought a bid of $120,000 from Bayard Sharp, of Wilmington, Del.

There were 191 yearlings sold during the two-night sale held at Timonium, and an additional 39 went through the ring but failed to meet the reserves set by their consignors. Gross sales amounted to $1,501,900, easily surpassing the 1972 record of $1,277,900. The overall average was $7,863, up 10 per cent from the previous record set in 1972 ($7,179).

The only record not equaled or broken was the sale's top price. Last year Mr. Taylor sold a colt by Dr. Fager out of Natalma for $155,000 to John A. Bell 3d's Cromwell Bloodstock Agency. Later named Nostrum, the colt has not yet started.

Both of this year's sessions took four hours, both starting at approximately 7:40 p.m. and ending at 11:40.

With the $120,000 colt selling on opening night (Hip No. 66), the first session proved best for both average price and gross receipts. The 98 head sold on Monday brought $828,100 for an average of $8,450. On Tuesday there were 93 sold for $673,800, an average of $7,245.

An additional 18 were offered but not sold on Monday. On Tuesday there were 21 that failed to meet their reserves.

This was the third Eastern Fall Sales in which Mr. Taylor has been a consignor and marked his personal high in gross receipts and average for the Maryland auction. His gross receipts of $425,000 averaged out to $28,333. In 1972 he sold $297,300 worth of horses at an average price of $24,775.

Miss E. S. Bromley was the sale's second most successful consignor, the Virginia breeder auctioning three yearlings for $105,000. Her average of $35,000 was the highest of the entire sale.

Discussing the auction soon after it was over, John Finney, president of the Fasig-Tipton company, agreed with other observers in the opinion that the market was extraordinarily strong for the higher class horses but quite weak in the middle levels.

"Essentially," said Finney, "it's a matter of what it costs to train a horse today. Buyers aren't looking for middle-class horses. It costs nearly as much to train a cheap one as a good one, so buyers are seeking the yearlings that look like they have stakes potential."

Maryland Gets 2 Million $ Tentam For 1974 Stud Duty

Laying out $2,200,000, E. P. Taylor acquired on September 18 the 4-year-old multi-stakes winning Tentam for stud duty at his Windfields Farm in Chesapeake City next spring.

Soon after buying the son of Intentionally and Tamerett Mr. Taylor revealed that he would divide the colt into 32 shares and that they would be sold at a price of $75,000.

Except to say that Mrs. Richard C. duPont was a participant in the transaction, a spokesman for Windfields Farm declined to list all of the shareholders at the time this magazine was going to press.

Explained the spokesman, Joe B. Hickey, Jr.: "There has been a tremendously strong response to the announcement of this syndication, and it looks like Mr. Taylor will have to sell more shares than he wanted to at the outset. But not all of the contracts are in hand right now, and rather than give a partial list which might exclude someone, I'd prefer to wait until everything is finalized."

Tentam increased his lifetime earnings to $454,109 on October 8 when he finished second to Secretariat in the $100,000 Man o' War Stakes. Prior to the Man o' War the Florida-bred had compiled victories in three consecutive stakes—the United Nations, Governor, and Bernard Baruch.

Since both the United Nations and Baruch handicaps were on the grass, Tentam had been considered as a candidate for 1973 turf championship honors—up until he finished second on the grass to Secretariat in the Man o' War.

In addition to the United Nations, Governor and Bernard Baruch, Tentam also captured the Metropolitan, Toboggan, Jim Dandy and Boardwalk. He was second in five other stakes and third in six.

Bred by the Gedney Farms, Tentam was purchased privately by the late Charles Engelhard for $48,000 as a yearling. Mack Miller has trained the colt throughout his career.

Mrs. Engelhard agreed to the sale of Tentam after she had seen him capture Belmont's $100,000 Governor Stakes on September 8. This was the first race Mrs. Engelhard had witnessed since the death of her husband two years ago.

Although Mrs. Engelhard has greatly reduced her horse holdings since inheriting the vast stable, she intends to remain in the business and has retained one share in Tentam.

Purchased as replacement for Nearctic, King's Bishop will take up residence at Mrs. duPont's Woodstock Farm in 1974.

Tentam traces in his sire line to Man o' War (Intentionally — Intent — War Relic — Man o' War). His sire, Intentionally, was a winner of $652,000 and is out of the Discovery mare My Recipe.

Tentam's dam is the 11-year-old Tamerett, a winning ($25,415) daughter of Tim Tam. Tentam is the mare's second foal and both are stakes winners. The first foal out of Tamerett was Tamtent, winner of the Tremont Stakes and over $40,000.

At Windfields Farm Tentam will join the stallions Northern Dancer (America's leading sire in 1971), Impressive, Protanto, Rambunctious, Dancing Count and Search For Gold.

King's Bishop At Woodstock

King's Bishop, winner early this month of Belmont Park's Fall Highweight Handicap, will be retired this fall and will join the stallion ranks at Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Woodstock Farm near Chesapeake City.

The 4-year-old is by Round Table out of the Fleet Nasrullah mare Spearfish. His victory in the $25,000 Fall Highweight increased his lifetime earnings to $308,080.

The colt is owned in a four-way partnership by Mrs. duPont, Buckingham Farm, Shenstone Farm and Windfields Farm. It has not yet been decided whether these four partners will syndicate their stallion prospect. Of the four owners, all are Marylanders except Mrs. Richard Stokes who lives in Leesburg, Va., at her Shenstone Farm. Buckingham Farm and Windfields Farm are both Eastern Shore properties, the former being owned by Mr. and Mrs. E. Edward Houghton and the latter by E. P. Taylor.

King's Bishop is the second foal out of his stakes-winning dam, Spearfish. Winner of four stakes (all in California) Spearfish retired with earnings of $122,907. The mare is a full sister to the $239,000-winner Gummo.

In capturing the Fall Highweight King's Bishop was gaining his fifth stakes triumph. He carried second high weight of 129 pounds in the six-furlong race and won impressively from topweighted Shecky Greene (137 pounds) in the excellent time of 1:09 2/5.

Unraced as a 2-year-old King's Bishop earned over $200,000 last year and has picked up another $100,000 this season.

The horse's 1974 stud fee has not yet been determined.

Summer Hill Retires Happy Way

Happy Way, a stakes-winning son of *Herbager, was retired this fall after earning over $90,000 and is being readied for the 1974 breeding season at Mr. and Mrs. John C. Moberley's Summer Hill Farm in Glenelg.

Unraced as a 2-year-old, Happy Way captured the Manhattan Handicap at 4. He is out of Siena Way who is also the dam of stakes-winning Prince's Gate. Siena Way (by Bull Lea out of *Hydroplane II) is a full-sister to the great Triple Crown winner Citation.

Happy Way's stud fee has been set at $1,000 live foal.

Helmore Retires Northern Jove

Northern Jove, a stakes-winner of over $122,000, is in the process of being syndicated and will be retired at the end of the 1973 season for stud duty at Edgar M. Lucas' Helmore Farm in Howard county.

Mr. Lucas purchased the 5-year-old son of Northern Dancer and Junonia from his breeder, Peter Fuller, last May. Since being acquired by Helmore Farm the roan horse has won two more races, giving him a lifetime total of 14 victories. His sire, Northern Dancer, was America's leading stallion in 1971.

Northern Jove will stand for a live foal fee of $1,500. Shares are priced at $5,000 in a 30-share syndicate of which Mr. Lucas intends to retain ten shares.

A winner in each of the four seasons he raced, Northern Jove is the first foal out of his stakes-placed dam. Junonia was herself a winner of $25,000 and is a half-sister to stakes-winners Juanita and Red Hook.

Northern Jove, a winner of five races as a 2-year-old, was weighted at 111 pounds on Thomas E. Trotter's Experimental Handicap of 1970. He won the Flintstone Stakes as a 4-year-old. His stakes-placings include the Heritage, Grosse Pointe Handicap, Highlander Handicap and Challenge Handicap. The horse also won an overnight handicap at Pimlico this year in the brilliant six-furlong time of 1:10 3/5.

Polinger Gets Sunny And Mild

Racing commissioner Milton Polinger announced early this month his acquisition of the 4-year-old colt Sunny and Mild who will be retired to stud at the Polinger Farm in Olney next year.

Winner of nearly $120,000, Sunny and Mild set a new track record last year at Aqueduct when winning the mile and three-sixteenths Queens County Handicap in 1:54 2/5. In addition to winning that $50,000-added race, the son of Assagai and Waddle was second in the Stuyvesant, Roamer and Discovery Handicaps and was also third in the Display Handicap.

Sunny and Mild also won three six-furlong races, showing that he could sprint as well as go a distance.

Said Mr. Polinger: "This horse proved his class as a sprinter when he won at Belmont last year by four lengths in the exceptional six-furlong time of 1:09 2/5. He had earlier won by five lengths in 1:10 4/5 at Monmouth.

"Going a mile and a sixteenth at Belmont he won by three lengths in 1:41 3/5—one second off the track record. Then he came back at Aqueduct to set a new track record in the mile and three-sixteenths Queens County.

"The horses he beat are all topnotchers. For example, when he won the Queens County there were horses like Tentam, Favorecidian, Rule By Reason and Chartered Course behind him. And he beat Tentam in the Stuyvesant Handicap, as well as Tunex and Favorecidian."

From the first crop of the good race horse Assagai (winner of $344,000), Sunny and Mild is out of the Native Dancer mare Waddle. Bred by Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Waddle placed in two stakes and is out of the stakes-winning mare Sitting Duck.

Mr. Polinger has set a live foal fee of $1,000 on Sunny and Mild. He also reports that he is dividing the horse into 32 shares and will sell some of those shares.

Nijinsky II Kin To Thornmar

Northern Flash, a stakes-placed three-quarters brother in blood to English Triple Crown winner Nijinsky II, has been transferred to Mr. and Mrs. Thor Ramsing's Thornmar Farm in Chestertown, Md.

The syndicate-owned son of Northern Dancer is out of stakes winner Flashing Top, by *Menetrier, a half-sister to Flaming Page, the dam of Nijinsky II, also a son of Northern Dancer. The 6-year-old horse won 6 races, 2 to 4, and was second in the Highlander Handicap. His first crop are weanlings, the horse having stood two seasons in Canada. Northern Flash will stand in Maryland for a fee of $1,000 live foal.

Already standing at Thornmar are syndicated *O'Hara and Elberon Farm's Two A Day.

Banderilla To Glade Valley

Syndicate-owned Banderilla has been moved from Kentucky to the Glade Valley Farm in Frederick where he will stand his third season at stud next spring. The 5-year-old gray stallion is by Native Dancer out of Quill by *Princequillo. Quill, a stakes-winner of $382,000, is the dam of One For All ($349,000) and First Feather. The latter mare is the dam of Run The Gantlet ($559,000).

Unraced as a 2-year-old, Banderilla made four starts at 3 and was three times second. His oldest foals are now weanlings. The horse's 1974 fee has not yet been announced.

Concept At Baldi Farm

Concept, a 3-year-old son of Nearctic and the Native Dancer mare Native Theme, has been retired to stud at the F. Baldi Farm in Burtonsville, Md. Owned by a syndicate, Concept won one race before being permanently sidelined by an injury.

The young stallion will stand for a live foal fee of $500, according to the farm's stallion manager, Dr. Daniel A. Pompa.

Concept is his dam's first foal. His second dam is *Theme who produced the good $109,000 winner Nashua Pilot, winner of the Arcadia Handicap.

Top Bid Wins With Aitcheson At Fair Hill

Story by Nancy Boyce

Photographs by Douglas Lees

At age 45 Joe Aitcheson never rode better than he did at Fair Hill's fall meeting which was held on two consecutive Saturdays last month. Riding Mrs. Ogden Phipps's 9-year-old gelding Top Bid, Aitcheson won both featured stakes races, the Manly and Grand National.

Joe, who has been seven times the country's leading steeplechase rider and is still among the top ten, was chalking up his 400th and 401st wins over jumps.

Top Bid added $10,500 to the $208,938 he had already earned to make him the leading money winner among horses still racing over brush and third behind Neji and Elkrige for all time honors.

Unlike the remarkable Aitcheson, beautiful, green Fair Hill is showing signs of age. Paint is peeling off the wooden stands where a new crop of splinters grew over the summer. Fair Hill is still, however, the only hunt meet with pari-mutuel betting, and perhaps, too, the only track with bouquets of blue and yellow flowers in the ladies' room.

The fans enjoyed two splendid cards that included brush, timber and flat races. With their folding chairs placed in the shade, a beer or barbecue in one hand and Racing Form in the other, they are happy souls who don't waste much money through the mutuels.

Although the Cecil County Breeders' Fair, Inc. offered a daily double and three exactas each day, the handle not only was off $11,357 from last year's record $356,584, but also it was far below that of major tracks whose attendance was either less or equal to the 12,000 who came to Fair Hill the second day.

Lined up for start of Andora flat race are (2) John's Whim with Clay Brittle up, (5) Alas Jericho and Mike White, and (1A) Leo O'Brien on Tornum. Opposite, Leo O'Brien walks in paddock with young valet.

However, some lucky people went home $1,888.80 richer on the second Saturday when they hit the exacta for the Battleship, a hurdle handicap for 3-year-olds and up. There was a gasp from the stands when the pay-off was announced on the winner, Mrs. Eugene Weymouth's Arnold W., who was ridden by Jerry Fishback and the second horse, Donald P. Ross's Farmers Lot, with Chris Elser up.

The timber races on each day were filled with some old favorites such as Charles Fenwick's Devil's Lancer, Mrs. Nelson Slater's Devil's Brolly and Bella Vista Farm's Portobelo III as well as some newcomers: Toinette Phillips' Dinner Jacket II who ran as a $3,500 claimer at Bowie in January and Jack Griswold's Coney Island.

Pretty, pigtailed Miss Phillips rode an excellent race and put in a determined drive during the final part of the Troublemaker, a three-mile test over timber for 5-year-olds and up, to finish second to Devil's Brolly.

Portobelo III ran much the same type of race in the Cecil County Steeplechase that he did at Fair Hill in the spring. His rider, Gil Flautt, let Devil's Lancer and Bruce Fenwick take the early lead then moved to the front after the seventh fence and won by three lengths from Rokeby Stable's Mongogo with Willie Moore up. Portobelo is fast and quick on his feet which helps to overcome any error he may make when approaching a jump.

Everybody was aware that the weather had been very dry, but they didn't realize just how dry until they saw the brush. Some jumps had turned dark brown and exploded like a box of talcum powder when the horses brushed through. It was announced at the end of the meet that Fair Hill is considering converting next year to synthetic brush like that used in Ireland.

Top Bid and Aitcheson left no doubt in anyone's mind as to who had the class.

In the Grand National on the second Saturday, the pair took such a long lead on the five other horses that it seemed as though they would lap Virginia Guest's Tarrantine who trailed. Top Bid jumped faultlessly until the final brush where as Joe put it afterward, "He just met it wrong. Any horse can make a mistake. But he came through all right."

Several horses had challenged Top Bid during the race. First, Summer Crop with Chris Elser, then the favorite, Juac Hollow with Jerry Fishback, and finally Mrs. Stephen Clark, Jr.'s Bailer and Leo O'Brien. But the game, little bay gelding merely laughed and threw dust in their faces.

On the first day, Mrs. William Coxe Wright's Castlebar II made a closer contest out of the Manly, two miles-and-an-eighth for 4-year-olds and up. There was no show betting because of the four-horse field.

Joe and Top Bid stayed behind Castlebar II until the field passed the stands for the first time. Then, coming up head and head the two dueled through the back stretch to cheers from the stands. By the eighth jump Top Bid held a slight advantage and then staved off a run by Augustin Stables' Wustenchef to win. Castlebar finished third with Mrs. Mary G. Christmas' Home to Papa fourth and last.

Back in the paddock after this race sweat was pouring off Joe. It matted his dark curls which are peppered with grey and dripped off his nose. Mrs. Phipps's old rose colored silks clung to the shoulder pads that he wears to protect collarbones knitted together with wire. In fact, Joe carries enough steel in him to set off metal-detecting devices, but it must have some intangible quality which keeps him young. Although he's been pounded and buffeted, cut and sewn up, he still can outride lads who are half his age.

At a point in life when men his age are looking for less hazardous sport, Joe talks only of riding a little less and training flat horses.

His daughter, Jodie, said, "He still wants to ride jumpers, though. I don't think he'll give that up."

Joe's accomplishments at the meet were almost overshadowed by two minor incidents on the first day that became major topics of conversation in the paddock.

First, nobody, but nobody claims a jumper, or had, until Walter McManus, Jr., reached into the Cowentown hurdle race on the first day and took Mrs. William Coxe Wright's Master Irish II (who was a galloping winner) for $6,000. This was the first time that Fair Hill had put on a claiming race.

Some people call it "honor among thieves," others "a gentleman's agreement." At any rate, trainers have become accustomed to dropping $20,000 horses in cheap jumping races without perspiring. This was partly due to the fact that there are few claiming races for jumpers. But if the claiming box was open, no one used it.

The young real estate executive and McDonogh graduate was perfectly aware that what he did might cause a stir. He said, "After the race we cooled him out, put him on the trailer and left.

"I've gotten different reactions from people. Some have been very nice.

"I've been looking for a horse to ride in hunt meets ever since the horse I was riding last year was barred. However, I find Master

Irish is of higher caliber than an amateur would need so we'll race him. I know he was supposed to have troubles, but he came out of the race sound.

"From his papers I see that he had no record in England where he was foaled, but won his first three starts after Mrs. Wright imported him four years ago."

Master Irish's trainer, veteran Morris Dixon, commented, "I had to work on that horse for two years to get him to the races. He has a bad foot among other things. Never, since I rode jumpers back in 1918, has anyone claimed a jumper off of me."

At $6,000 imported Master Irish II has to be the bargain buy of the season. Although this event was a shock to many, some people feel that more claiming races may help steeplechasing lose its cloistered image. It may blow some fresh air into the sport that some feel is reserved for the rich and, therefore, has limited appeal. As everyone knows, jumping races are an exciting spectacle, but they need to attract more bettors.

The other conversation piece might be described as the pounding of Leo O'Brien. Sure, the leprechauns were tearing their hair and stomping their feet for an opportunity to have at the guard who hauled Ireland's pride down out of the Aintree stands and proceeded to mash Leo with his elbow. The guard had been ordered to keep all persons without the proper tickets out of the stand and he followed orders with a vengeance.

And didn't Leo have his sisters from Ireland visiting with him, and wasn't he wearing jockey's breeches and boots, and weren't the tickets they were wearing good enough? No, said the guard. The ruckus didn't stop until Mike Smithwick and others called the stewards.

Leo was so hot under the collar that he jumped on his mount for the following race, bruises and all, and led from start to finish. In fact, he led a real parade down the stretch in one of the most drawn out finishes in some time.

First came Leo, eight lengths in front of Arnold W. who was 25 lengths in front of Hipocampo and Chris Elser who was another 25 lengths before Jay Secor on Ask the Price who led the last horse, Augustin Stable's Jay's Trouble by eight.

And who was Leo riding? Master Irish II. The leprechauns had their revenge. □

FAIRFAX

Story by Cissy Finley
Photographs by Douglas Lees

"He has a nickname, 'Still in the Stall,' but we will change that after today," Martha Jenney said following her 5-year-old Still in All's victory in the co-featured Seven Corners race, one of six events at the Fairfax (Va.) steeplechase races last month.

Still in All has a well known winning stablemate, Inkslinger, at his Lutherville (Md.) barn, but "Stilly" had not won a race since 1971, according to his owner who said he was entered in both '73 Fair Hill meets.

Synthetic fences imported from Ireland were used in this country for the first time at the Fairfax event. Mrs. Jenney agreed with most spectators and jockeys that the horses really stood back and took off. The bases on the new jumps are bright green in color and look solid, but are actually very sponge-like. The simulated brush tops are of hard plastic and make quite a rustle when the horses' hooves swish through. "I imagine they cause a sting if a horse gets in too close," race chairman Randolph Rouse said.

Still in All was ridden to victory by Joseph L. Aitcheson, Jr. They took the lead at first, but Aitcheson pulled back halfway through the race when Arnold W. ridden by Jerry Fishback set a faster pace and was encouraged in this effort by Romarino with Chris Elser astride. Still in All made his move over the last hurdle, and about a hundred yards from the finish took over for keeps.

Jockey Aitcheson rode Chapel Street to victory in the featured $4,000 Bowman Bowl, a three-mile timber event. Aitcheson was chalking up his 403rd victory over jumps as he and Chapel Street crossed the finish line three lengths ahead of Bella Vista Farm's Portobelo III, ridden by Gilmore Flautt, III, who also trains the Maryland horse. This ended a four-race winning streak for Portobelo who captured the 1973 Virginia Gold Cup. It was the first time Aitcheson had ridden Chapel Street and it appeared they were great for each other. He is owned by Rokeby Stables in Virginia. If his Fairfax race is any criterion for Chapel Street, Joe Aitcheson (left) pulls up Chapel Street after capturing Bowman Bowl. Top right, Mrs. Samuel E. Bogley's Gran Vital shows winning form in Governor of Virginia Cup. he will be the horse to watch during this season's timber events.

The nine-horse Bowman Bowl was a thriller from first to last of the 17 fences. The entire field pretty much kept up with Chapel Street's fast pace and only at one point did Portobelo go in front to hold the lead briefly, although he was never far behind. Other Maryland entries included Redmond Stewart's Prince Gale ridden by C. C. Fenwick, Jr., who finished out of the money and H. Turney McKnight's Harvest Sky who fell at the second fence with his owner.

A Kentucky entry, J. K. Griggs's Belay, was third. The winning time, 5:22.

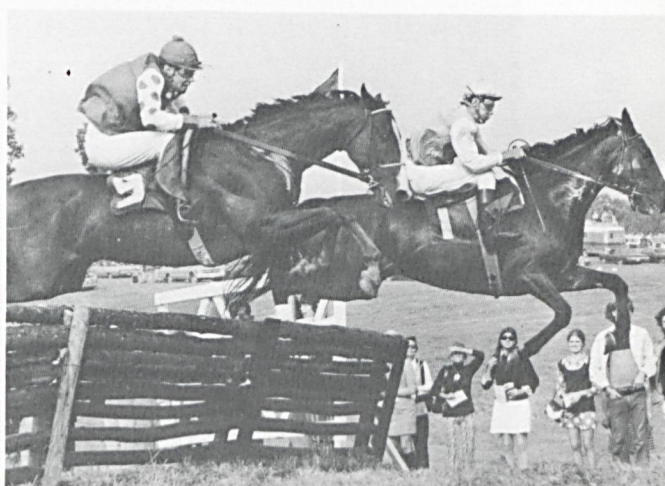

The 1972 top hurdle horse of the year, Gran Vital, owned by Mrs. Samuel E. Bogley of Potomac, Md., won the Governor of Virginia Cup, crossing the finish two lengths ahead of Mrs. Raymond Toerge's Ask The Price. Augustin Stable's Foxonewa was third with owner George Strawbridge astride. The winning time in the two-and-an-eighth mile hurdles was 3:28.4.

Another entry from Strawbridge's Augustin Stable in Chesapeake City, Md., Jay Gee, was beaten by two lengths in the mile-and-three-quarters $2,000 hurdle event which was won by Mrs. J. W. Schmid's Gun Gold, a Virginia entry.

Fool's Rush, from the Monkton (Md.) stable of Miss Audrey Riker, won the Lord Byron Fairfax mile-and-three-furlongs on the flat. Although a foul was claimed against jockey Turney McKnight, (by Chris Elser, the rider of the second-place horse Calypso Boy), the claim was disallowed. An Augustin Stable entry, Eton, ridden by Strawbridge, was third.

It was a big day for jockey Aitcheson. Winning both featured events would have made his day, but, in addition to this he was awarded the Lisle A. Smith Memorial Award for sportsmanship. It has become a family tradition for the Aitchesons. His father, J. Leiter Aitcheson, Sr., was presented the award in 1966. The presentation is made annually to "that participant of Hunt Race meetings who has consistently exemplified sportsmanship."

All in all it was a good day for Marylanders and their horses. □

What's New in Maryland

Two-Year-Old Sale May 16

The date for the first Two-Year-Olds in Training sale ever held in Maryland has been set for May 16—the Thursday before the Preakness.

The auction will be held in the Timonium sales pavilion. It will be conducted by the Fasig-Tipton Company and sponsored by the Maryland Horse Breeders Association.

Plans for the one night auction stipulate that nominations will close on February 1 and that the selection committee will announce its decisions by March 1.

All horses must be at Timonium by Saturday, May 5, and will engage in public trials on Sunday, May 13.

Nomination blanks, which will be available on January 7, must be returned with a check for $25 which will be non-refundable. A further fee of $275 for those horses selected must be paid when the final entries are made.

Covered by the entry fees will be clockers, veterinarians, advertising and a bull roast to be held at Timonium on the Sunday afternoon during which public workouts will be held.

Knightly Manner To England

Merryland Farm announced last month the sale of syndicate-owned Knightly Manner to R. A. Fowlston, owner and manager of the Britton House Stud in Ashford, Kent, England. The horse is expected to be shipped to Mr. Fowlston's stud within the next few weeks.

Winner of $436,676, Knightly Manner has sired such stakes winners as Command Module, Mrs. Moose and Man of Men. By Round Table out of the *Nasrullah mare Courtesy, the 12-year old stallion has been standing at Merryland Farm since being retired as a 5-year-old. His stud fee was $3,000 live foal.

Dance Appointed Vice-President

Laddie Dance, prominent Maryland breeder and horse auctioneer, has been named a vice-president of the Thoroughbred Owners and Breeders Association, publishers of The Blood-Horse. Mr. Dance, who is one of the TOBA's five vice-presidents, will represent the mid-eastern area of the United States.

AHP Elects Carter President

Snowden Carter, editor of THE MARYLAND HORSE and HORSE PLAY, was elected president of the American Horse Publications at the organization's annual meeting held early this month in Lexington, Ky.

Mr. Carter succeeds Bob Gray, publisher of HORSEMAN, a Western magazine printed in Houston, Texas.

Other officers elected were Tony Chamblin, publisher of THE HORSEMEN'S JOURNAL, first vice-president; Audie Rackley, editor of the QUARTER HORSE JOURNAL, second vice-president; WALT WIGGINS, editor of QUARTER RACING WORLD, secretary; and Erbert Eades, advertising manager of THE BLOOD-HORSE, treasurer.

AHP is an organization of approximately 40 American horse magazines which cumulatively boast a circulation of 600,000 readers.

Saidam's Kin Beats Secretariat

Prove Out, conqueror of Secretariat in the $100,000 Woodward, is a half-brother to Saidam who stands at Woodstock Farm in Cecil county. Both Prove Out and Saidam are sons of the 20-year-old broodmare Equal Venture, a daughter of Bold Venture. Prove Out is a son of Graustark while Saidam is by Never Say Die.

Equal Venture, a full sister to Triple Crown winner Assault, has now produced three winners of over $100,000. In addition to Saidam (winner of $169,000) and Prove Out she also is the dam of Heartland, a Bold Ruler filly who retired with earnings of over $132,000.

Taylor Filly Wins In Ireland

E. P. Taylor's Lady Guest, who topped the 1972 Saratoga Yearling Sales at $140,000, won her first start in Ireland last month. The 2-year-old daughter of *Forli and Guest Room was bred in Maryland by Mr. and Mrs. Laddie Dance.

Commission Sets 1974 Dates

Issuing a 1974 racing schedule which exactly duplicates the 1973 allotment, the Maryland Racing Commission this month gave Maryland's three mile tracks consecutive meetings of 60 days and also provided dates for Timonium and Marlboro in their accustomed racing spots.

There is, of course, no secret about the desire of Bowie (which owns Marlboro) to transfer Marlboro's 36 days on a permanent basis to the parent track. But this transfer cannot be accomplished without legislative sanction. Undoubtedly the Bowie management will introduce a bill providing for such a transfer in the 1974 session of the General Assembly.

Timonium's fate will also be decided at that same session of the Legislature. In recent months the York road track has been under strong pressure to either rebuild or close.

The dates issued by the commission are as follows:

Bowie—Jan. 2 through March 16 (four unspecified dark days); 60 days.

Pimlico—March 18 through May 27 (dark Good Friday, April 12); 60 days.

Laurel—Oct. 21 through Dec. 31 (dark Dec. 23, 24, 25); 59 days.

Timonium—Aug. 10 through Sept. 7 (dark Aug. 13); 24 days.

Marlboro—Sept. 9 through Oct. 19; 36 days.

Fair Hill—May 8 and May 11; 2 days.

Fair Hill—Sept. 7 and Sept. 14; 2 days.

Stud Managers Course Planned

Plans are being finalized for a two-day stud managers course to be held in the Timonium sales pavilion on December 13 and 14.

C. Frank Hopkins, chairman of the committee, reports that there will be a registration fee of $10. Those wishing to attend a dinner held in conjunction with the course will be required to pay an additional $10.

According to Mr. Hopkins the first day's agenda will cover the following subjects: economics related to the horse industry; labor management; health programs; parasite control; pasture management, and virus diseases.

The second day's speakers will cover the following: bloodlines; care and management of stallions; care and management of broodmares; facilities recommended for breeding, and uterine infections.

Further details on the program will be announced in the November issue of this magazine.

Sasscer Stakes

Bowie's $25,000-added Lansdale G. Sasscer Stakes was won early this month by David P. Reynolds' Der Giragossian who was making the second start of his career. In his only previous race the 2-year-old son of Be Somebody had won by nine lengths over maidens at Atlantic City, turning the six furlongs in 1.10 3/5.

Ten Maryland-bred 2-year-olds went postward in the inaugural running of the Sasscer, but the race was essentially a two-horse contest with only Trenton Joe offering serious opposition to the front-running winner. Bred by his owner, Der Giragossian is trained by Baltimore-born Thomas J. Kelly.

The horse's unusual name was explained after the race when Mr. Reynolds' son-in-law arrived in the winner's circle and introduced himself. His name is Willie Der Giragossian.

Der Giragossian (the horse) is the second foal out of the Porterhouse mare Satisfying.

Her first foal is the 3-year-old Big Red L. who finished second earlier this year at Bowie in the $25,000 Prince Georges Stakes and the $25,000 General George Stakes.

Be Somebody, sire of the winner, is a 13-year-old son of Barbizon. He stands at Dr. G. G. Meredith's Merry Acres Farm in Kingsville, Md., for a fee of $500 live foal.

Runner-up Trenton Joe was making the fourth start of his career, but his first in Maryland. He had previously won at Liberty Bell and placed at both Atlantic City and Liberty Bell.

Bred by the Rosemont Farm near Port Deposit and owned by A. R. Pepino, Trenton Joe is from the second full crop of the young stallion Aristocratic. His dam, Wild About, is a daughter of Native Charger.

Trenton Joe was offered in the Eastern Fall Sales of 1972 but failed to meet his reserve and was bought in by his consignor on a final bid of $2,500. □

Ensor Named General Manager

Lawrence E. Ensor, Jr., has been appointed general manager of the Fasig-Tipton Company, succeeding John M. S. Finney who remains as president and chief executive officer of the Thoroughbred auctioneering firm. Mr. Ensor continues in his capacity as Fasig-Tipton's Vice President, but will relinquish his duties as operations manager, a position to which no successor will be immediately named.

A Maryland native, Mr. Ensor has been associated with Fasig-Tipton in various capacities for over 20 years and in 1962 moved to New York to join the company on a full-time basis. As operations manager he has for the past five years had overall responsibility for planning and conducting of the company's auctions in Florida, Maryland, Kentucky and New York.

Fasig-Tipton's president, John Finney, cited increased travel requirements and the necessity to devote more time to special company projects as major reasons for giving up the general manager's post. "I am delighted that the Board of Directors has approved this action," stated Finney. "I believe I have been in the Elmont office for only about five days since the first of July and I will be on the road for the next six weeks. With the complexity of our various operations Fasig-Tipton needs a general manager who is on the scene and in intimate day by day contact with all the details, and Larry Ensor is that man."

Alma Wins Again

Mori mare is now second to Politley as leading Maryland-bred money winning mare.

Eugene Mori's truly remarkable 5-year-old mare Alma North captured Atlantic City's $100,000 Matchmaker Stakes early this month, pushing her lifetime earnings to $483,183—the second greatest amount ever won by a Maryland-bred mare.

Alma North's lifetime earnings are now only $69,789 away from Politley's all-time Maryland-bred record.

In winning the Matchmaker, Alma North made amends for her 1972 performance in the mile and three-sixteenths race. It may be remembered that she finished first in last year's event but was disqualified and placed third after the stewards found her guilty of interference.

Bred by the partnership of Dr. Robert A. Leonard and Stanley Bender (who operate under the name of J.I.B. Farms), Alma North is a daughter of Northern Dancer and Spaws Arrow. She was sold at the Saratoga Yearling Sales of 1969 by J.I.B. Farms to Mr. Mori for $15,500.

The courageous and durable mare defeated Light Hearted, Susan's Girl and six other mares in this year's Matchmaker. Her winning time of 1.55 1/5 equaled the track record. Sent to the lead at the start, she remained there to the end, holding a length and a quarter margin over runner-up Light Hearted.

Since one of the features of the Matchmaker is the awarding of a free 1974 stallion service to the owners of the first four finishers, Mr. Mori was given first choice of a service to either Northern Dancer, Hoist The Flag, *Cougar II or Silent Screen. He chose Northern Dancer, the Maryland stallion who led this nation's sires in 1971. Mrs. Jane Lunger (owner of the runner-up) selected a service to Hoist The Flag, while Fred Hooper (owner of third-place Susan's Girl) decided on a service to *Cougar II. Jack Dreyfus, owner of fourth-place finisher Wakefield Miss, wound up with a service to Silent Screen.

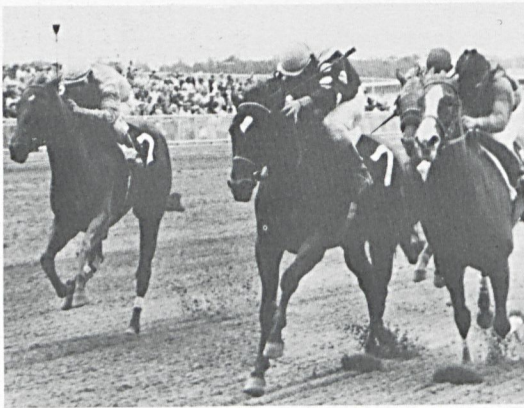

The Matchmaker marked the 74th start of Alma North's remarkable career. She was gaining her 22nd victory and her 14th in a stakes race.

Asked about his future plans for Alma North following the Matchmaker, Mr. Mori said: "I think she has had enough for the year. Unless an easy one comes along we will probably not run her until the winter.

"I don't know about next year. Chances are we will breed her in the spring. I am thinking of a sire like Graustark." □

"The Miracle"

There is a horse where nothing was

Last year at this time;

A fuzzy mane

A stubby tail

A little coat to brush and shine

Last year this warm muzzle

Could not have breathed into my hand;

And these small hoofs

Soft furry ears

The shining eyes!—

Where were they then?

A rather commonplace event?

It happens everyday?

A little horse where nothing
was

Has suddenly come to live and play,

To love the earth

Then pass away.

Foal Production For 1971

The Jockey Club reported last month that it has registered a record number of 25,397 two-year-olds (foals of 1971).

Also revealed in the report was the fact that California has now passed Kentucky as the nation's leading producer of Thoroughbred foals. Maryland retained its No. 4 position, a ranking it first attained in 1964 when passing Virginia. The latter state remains fifth.

Maryland's 1971 foal crop of 1,355 is the largest in the state's history. That figure comes close to tripling Maryland's 1961 foal crop of 489.

A great deal of the state's growth can be attributed, of course, to the Maryland Fund program which came into existence in 1962. □

VEE Ban Is Lifted

Great Britain, Ireland, and France have announced that as of September 15, 1973, they lifted the ban imposed April 1, 1973, on the import of horses from the United States.

The three countries also indicated they will not re-impose the ban in 1974 unless there is an outbreak of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis in the U. S. at that time. The import restrictions were originally imposed in the summer of 1971, following the outbreak of VEE in Mexico and the United States. In subsequent years the ban has been re-imposed and lifted at the beginning and end of each vector season.

There were no cases of VEE confirmed in either the U. S. or Mexico during 1973.

The three governments confirmed that horses from Texas are also included under the terms of the announcement. In previous years when the ban was lifted, import licenses were denied for horses which had been in Texas at any time within six months prior to the date of shipment.

The American Horse Council wrote to the governments last April stating that the ban was of great concern to the domestic equine industry, and pointing out that the TC-83 vaccine, used to immunize horses against the disease, has proved effective. The American Horse Council letter requested the three countries to state "what future policies" might be followed if there is no recurrence of Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis in the United States in 1973.

Canadians Honor E. P. Taylor

The Hopeful Stakes at Saratoga is one of the most important races for 2-year-olds. Gusty O'Shay, this year's winner, was bred in Maryland by his owner, Mrs. G. Tyson Hopkins, and her sister, Mrs. Lola Peters, and his pedigree has many Maryland associations.

His sire, Rose Argent, is unraced and stands at Kennersley Farm, in Church Hill, Md. His first crop consists of two foals, and Gusty O'Shay is one of 12 foals from his second crop and his first winner. The sire of Rose Argent is the very successful Double Jay, sire of top horses at all distances. Double Jay's male line traces to Domino, and he is one of the most important representatives today of that old American source of speed. He also carries two crosses of Ben Brush, another old American family, which is more indicative of staying ability. Rose, dam of Rose Argent, is a sister of Bosun, a good stakes winner at 2 and now a sire. She is by Sailor, who is responsible for two more crosses of Domino through his sire Eighty Thirty, and one more of Ben Brush from his dam Flota by Jack High. Through Sailor come two crosses of Man o' War. Rosayya, Rose's dam, is by Rosemont, whose male line goes to Ben Brush, with a cross of Domino in his sire and his dam. The next dam is Omayya by *Sir Gallahad III.

Gusty O'Shay's bottom line is familiar to many Marylanders. His dam, Stormy O'Shay, however, comes from Florida. She is a winner of two races from 20 starts and was claimed at Charles Town for $2,500 by Mrs. Hopkins. She is the dam of one other foal to start, the winner Windy O'Shay.

Stormy O'Shay is by Restless Wind, a top 2-year-old and now a successful sire. His sire *Windy City II is the only imported horse in the first four generations of Gusty O'Shay's pedigree, which is very unusual in a winner of an important race today. Through the dam of Restless Wind comes another cross of Domino and of Ben Brush.

Legal Limit is the second dam of Gusty O'Shay. She was bred in Maryland by Raymond Vogelmann, started 79 times and won eight races. The dam of two other winners, she has been exported to Venezuela. Her sire, Double Brandy, is also a Maryland-bred, and is better known in Maryland than elsewhere, getting many tough, honest horses. His male line goes through Questionnaire to Himyar, sire of Domino, the seventh cross to this line. His dam was by Man o' War, making the third cross to him.

The dam of Legal Limit was Bad Light, who was also raced by Mr. Vogelmann, as were her foals. Foaled in 1945, she started 70 times, won eight races, and produced seven winners besides Legal Limit. She was by the speed horse Okapi out of Red Glare by Diavolo. Okapi is responsible for the eighth cross of Domino in this pedigree through his grandsire Sweep. His male line is that of Ben Brush, as is Diavolo's, while Diavolo was out of a Peter Pan mare, thence back to Domino again.

Red Glare's dam was *Star Spangle by Sunster, foaled in 1916. Red Glare showed the first sign of class in the female line of Gusty O'Shay, appropriately enough running third as a 2-year-old in Saratoga's United States Hotel Stakes in 1937. She also ran around Maryland, winning five races. Bad Light was her only starter.

There are all together nine crosses of Domino and his sire Himyar, and seven crosses of Ben Brush in this rather old-fashioned pedigree, and the general impression is of speed and 2-year-old success. However, since Gusty O'Shay's first three dams started a total of 169 times perhaps he will have inherited the durability to make good use of the staying blood in his pedigree. □

THORNMAR

CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND 21620 (301) 778-1116

Times have been trying for foxhunting people in our Boston-Washington corridor these past 30 years as the cities and suburbs sprawled out to encompass much of what had been fine hunting country.

But the Vicmead Hunt Club located in both Maryland and Delaware, has come up smelling like a rose. Vicmead's solution offers the best of two worlds—a clubhouse in Greenville (just north of Wilmington, Del.) which offers all the conveniences and social niceties (pool, boarding stable, tennis courts, dining facilities) and hunting country near Chesapeake City, (Md.) that embraces about 200 square miles of lower Cecil county and a slice of Delaware along the eastern boundary.

This is the Bohemia Manor country, which is home or host to some of the finest Thoroughbred breeding stock in the world. It was here that J. Simpson Dean, then Master of the Vicmead Hunt Club, opened up new hunting country in 1934 when the Greenville and Limestone country in northern Delaware were becoming less well-suited for hunting.

The Bohemia Manor country is roughly outlined by the Chesapeake Bay on the west, Bohemia river on the south, Chesapeake-Delaware canal on the north and Route 896 on the east. It is an agricultural area with a large portion under cultivation and relatively little grass. To open it up, Mr. Dean and his staff cut and cleared miles of rides through the low-lying woodlands, building stone bridges over streams and panelling every fence in sight.

Among Vicmead's staunchest members has been Mrs. Richard C. duPont, famed as the owner of Woodstock Farm and Bohemia Stable (Kelso, Politely, et al.). It was in 1955, while she was Joint-Master of Foxhounds with Mrs. H. B. duPont, that the Vicmead kennels were moved from Greenville to the Bohemia Manor country. That kennel location has since become a part of the Stallion Division of Windfields Farm and the Vicmead pack is now quartered a couple of miles down the road in a truly elegant new kennel designed and built by Mrs. W. S. Carpenter, III, the present Master of Foxhounds.

Mrs. Carpenter is assisted by Huntsman O. John (Monk) Crosson, Jr., who succeeds his father, Oscar J. Crosson, Sr., in that post. Monk Crosson has quite a family tradition to sustain—his uncle Albert Crosson is huntsman at Pickering, and his grandfather, Silas Crosson, was widely known for his fine hounds in the Unionville, (Pa.) area.

The five staff horses and their immaculate stable are under the management of Tim

Story and photographs by Jack Dewell

Scharf, who has been with Vicmead for about a year.

Just now the club is very much in need of an experienced whipper-in and is searching high and low for qualified applicants.

The Vicmead Hunt Club was established in 1921, beginning with a pack of Penn MaryDels hounds.

Mrs. Carpenter explained that Penn MaryDels were dispersed in 1929 and a large draft of American hounds were brought from Virginia. Those were supplemented by other drafts of American hounds in 1931, including hounds from Foxcatcher, Orange County, Albemarle County, Mason Hoagland, Joseph Thomas, Hugh Bywater, Sterling Larabee and Robert Rhodes. This draft included the great Joe Kemper ('33) which was national field trial hound.

The present program of English breeding was instituted in 1939 with a large draft of North Cotswold hounds, including some Welsh blood from the pack of Sir Edward Curre.

Mrs. Carpenter is convinced that this is the proper direction for Vicmead's breeding program.

"They're good in this heavy country of ours," she says. "They have a beautiful cry—their voice is lighter and more exciting. Of course the English hounds have taken on a great deal more refinement of conformation in the years since we first began crossing them with our American hounds, but they're very fast and vigorous, with a good strong constitution.

"We have twenty-one and a half couple of purebred English hounds and nine couple of Cross-breds, which are typically about 95 per cent English blood."

Since the percentage of American blood is halved with each generation, the pack will soon be all registered English hounds.

(Mrs. Carpenter points out that the Master of Foxhounds Association, which registers foxhounds, permits up to 3.125 per cent of "other" blood—this means that a 31/32 pure pedigree, showing only one outcross in the fifth generation, is considered purebred and registered as such.)

Vicmead's most successful crosses now are a result of breeding Wentworth ('70) to two of the Canadian bitches.

Vicmead's record field was an opening day turnout of 75 several years ago. More typically, the field averages about six to eight on weekdays and 20 to 25 on Saturdays, including a number of land owners and their children. Mrs. Carpenter is particularly encouraged by the number of young people who are hunting.

"We've been fortunate to have Mr. John Cully in charge of our stable at Greenville for some time, and he often brings out six or seven juniors on Saturdays and holidays. Also we invite the Middletown Pony Club to hunt with us three times each year.

"We're very pleased about the new country we're beginning to open up around Earlvile. It's rather more rolling country than Bohemia Manor and has a lot more grass, which gives it a natural advantage over the Bohemia Manor country early in the season, before the corn and soybeans are harvested. It's only about fifteen minutes by van from the kennels, and I expect we'll be hunting there more in years to come. Right now, though, we're just beginning to learn how foxes run and planning a gradual program of panelling."

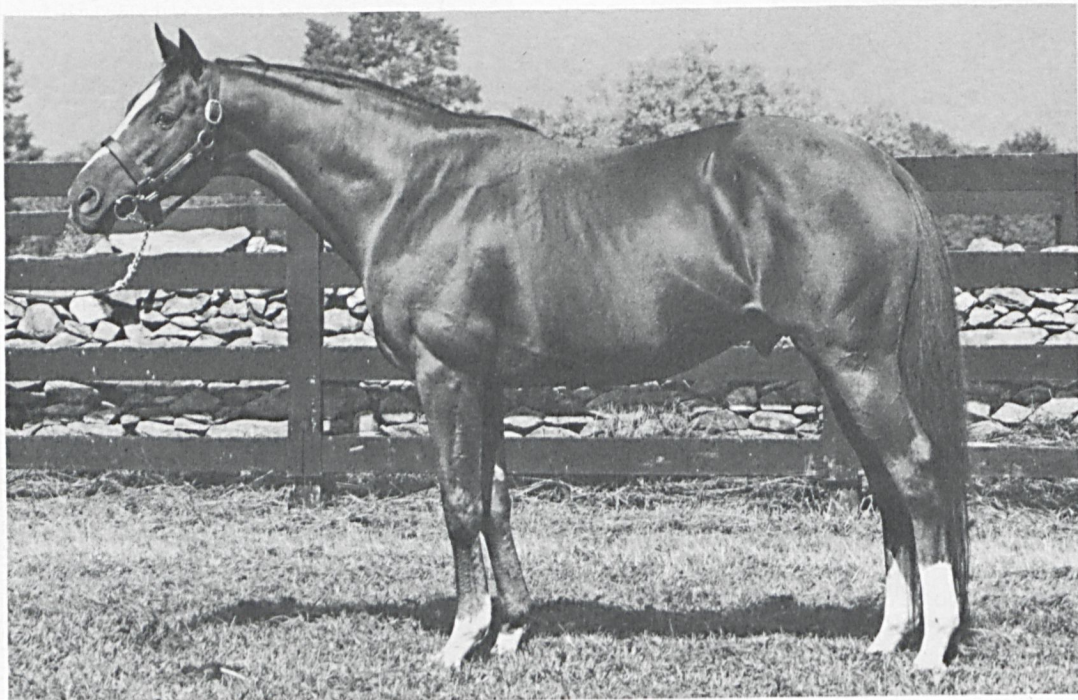

The Vicmead's country is just enough off the beaten path to keep it relatively safe for the foreseeable future.

It would seem that with a fine pack of hounds and a hospitable environment, the Vicmead Hunt Club doesn't need the usual waiting period for "these trying times" to mature into "Good Old Days"—the days seem pretty good right now. □

CH., '63, *TURN-TO—LEGENDRA, BY *CHALLENGER II

As you know, an early training accident prevented him from ever racing. As you also know, he is half-brother to four top-class stakes-winners and, in addition, sired a top-class New York stakes-winner in his very first crop.

There is no horse in America with such superb bloodlines and conformation standing at a more reasonable fee.

Fruen Milling Co., P.O. Box 3172, Minneapolis, Minn. 55403; 800-228-9527

Bruce Fruen. He's got a right to be picky.

You can't blame Bruce Fruen for being so particular. It's his name that goes on every bag of Fruen horse feed.

So Bruce makes sure only the best grains go into each kind of Fruen feed. That's what Bruce's grandfather did when he started the business, way back in 1890.

Like his grandfather, Bruce knows the finest oats in the world come from the Red River Valley. So these are the only kind that ever make it into the Fruen feed bag.

And even after Fruen selects the best, the oats are screened again and again. In fact, Fruen's 13-step quality control screens out about 900 lbs. of every 2900 lbs. they buy.

So the Fruen horse feeds you get have only the highest quality oats. Full, plump kernels packed with more of the nutrients a high performance horse needs. Grandpa Fruen wouldn't have had it any other way. And today, neither would Bruce.

Fruen - the people who care for performance horses.

ANTIETAM HUNT

(scarlet, Federal blue and Confederate gray collar)

Established 1927; Discontinued 1938; Reactivated 1970; Registered 1973

Master and Huntsman, Clayton Emig Doing (1970)

Whippers-in, (Honorary) Clayton Emig Doing, Jr., Richard F. Weddle (Professional) Kenneth E. Payne

Kennelman, Kenneth Payne

Determined not to take on the problems a large field creates, the Antietam Hunt has limited its membership to 15. "We have a waiting list," said Clayton Doing, MFH, "and are not interested in getting larger.

"We are opening new country into West Virginia and now hunt over the battlefield and around Boonsboro.

"Our pack of American foxhounds includes a Penn-Marydel from Wilbur Ross Hubbard and a purebred English bitch from Joe Rogers. The rest of our hounds were bred from Potomac and Piedmont hounds."

DE LA BROOKE FOXHOUNDS W

(scarlet, royal blue collar, gold piping)

Established 1937; Registered 1973

Joint Masters, Hon. Henry J. Fowler (1965), Dr. Eugene Guazzo (1970)

Huntsman, Dr. Guazzo

Whippers-in, Howard A. Lancaster, Henry J. Fowler, Jr., Mrs. Mary Moses

Kennelman, (Professional) Robert Delano Geer

This is the first country in the New World that was hunted for pleasure. Robert Brooke of De La Brooke Manor, England, brought his pack of foxhounds here in 1650.

Here in Tidewater Maryland, De La Brooke's 25½ couple of American foxhounds hunt some flat, some rolling, country laced with rivers and streams.

The De La Brooke hounds represent the bloodlines of some of America's finest packs.

This is the land of the crab and tobacco crop, and one of the hunt's greatest problems is keeping off the tobacco.

MIDDLETOWN VALLEY HUNT

(scarlet, rust collar, gold piping)

Established 1966; Registered 1973

Master and Huntsman, Richard P. Moran
Whippers-in, (Honorary) Robert J. Monahan, Volorous S. Hougen, Mrs. William C. Bogley, Mrs. Richard P. Moran
Kennelman, William C. Jernigan

"We have cut our English hounds down to one couple—Candy from the Whaddon Chase and one of her daughters, Daphne," said Mr. Moran. "We have nine couple of crossbred pups from these two bitches as well as ten couple of American hounds.

"Wilbur Ross Hubbard has been very helpful to us as we work toward recognition. You have to develop your pack and country to a point where they can be recognized."

MVH hunts part of the territory that was used in the late 18th and early 19th century by Gov. Thomas Sim Lee's pack which hunted from his home, Needwood, in the Middletown Valley.

"Burkittsville was an English-Irish settlement," he said, "and different from the Germans who settled the rest of the valley.

"We have been hunting between Route 17 and South Mountain and this year will cross 17 and move toward the Catoctins. This will give us an additional 1,000 to 1,200 acres."

Above, Wye River Hounds leave Wye River Plantation led by Joint Masters Thomas G. Wyman and Mrs. Anne Morton McCance.

Established 1964; Registered 1973

Joint Masters, Hamilton P. Fox (1972), Robert L. Williams (1972)

Huntsman, Mr. Fox

Whippers-in, (Honorary) Beth Cantrell, Ann Fincher

Kennelman, Howard Hall

"Our season is shorter than most," said Mr. Fox. "We have to wait until the truck farmers' soybean crop has been harvested, so we hunt from Thanksgiving to Easter.

"We have gotten some volunteers and paid workers to help open trails to the south. We hunt all of Wicomico county and our greatest problem is keeping the riders from hurting the crops."

Mr. Fox is huntsman for 19 couple of American foxhounds.

WYE RIVER HOUNDS

(scarlet, green collar with yellow piping)

Established 1966; Registered 1972

Joint Masters, Thomas G. Wyman, Anne Morton McCance

Huntsman, Mr. Wyman

Whippers-in, (Honorary) Mrs. McCance (Professional) Lennert Pinder

Kennelman, Lennert Pinder

"The eighteen and a half couple of English foxhounds are mostly of the Duke of Beaufort line," said Mrs. McCance. "We imported a number from Taunton Vale, also."

Mr. Wyman must be the only master who hunts a purebred Lippizaner stallion.

The privately-owned pack hunts territory around the beautiful Wye River on the Eastern Shore in Talbot county.

Judge's Clinic

Daniel Lenehan and David T. Kelley will conduct a judges' clinic on November 11 at the Timonium fairgrounds starting at 9 a.m.

Jointly sponsored by the American Horse Shows Association and the Maryland and Virginia Horse Shows Associations, the clinic will cover equitation, pony, junior and hunter divisions.

Both judges are registered in hunter, jumper and hunter/equitation divisions of the AHSA. Mr. Lenehan judged the recent Lake Placid show and in 1972 covered Devon and the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto. Among the highlights of Mr. Kelley's schedule last year were the Forum International in California, the National in New York and the Upperville shows.

A full house is expected. A registration fee of $5 may be paid at the door. For information call John Wagner, 301-329-6270 or 301-771-4334.

Is incorporating horse or cattle operations the answer to avoid the rules of Section 183?

by JAMES A. FLICK, JR. and HENRY W. SCHMIDT, JR.

(Reprinted from The Journal of Taxation, August, 1973)

If the two-out-of-five or two-out-of-seven year tests under Section 183(d) are not met, clients who have horse or cattle operations may be hard put to show that they are engaged in the activity to make a profit. Messrs. Flick and Schmidt analyze the workings of Section 183, the applicable cases, Regulations and Committee Reports and tell how incorporation may be the solution.

TAX LAWS USHERED in by the Tax Reform Act of 1969 have seriously affected many operators in the horse and cattle industry. Capital gains on the sale of horses and cattle have been attacked by three separate changes in the tax laws. Section 1251 added the farm loss recapture provisions to the Code whereby profit on the sale of farm property is converted from capital gain to ordinary income to the extent of previous deductions of farm losses. Section 1245 was amended to include gain on sales of livestock in its recapture provisions and Section 1231 was changed to require that cattle and horses be held at least 24 months to qualify for capital gains treatment. In addition, the 1969 Act added Section 1031(e) which provides that livestock of different sexes is not property of a like-kind which will qualify for nonrecognition of gain or loss in an exchange.

The most critical assault on the horse and cattle industry by far, however, is Section 183 "Activities Not Engaged In For Profit," which replaced Section 270, the old "hobby loss" rule. Section 183(d), the heart of the new Section, creates a presumption that cattle operations are engaged in for profit if gross income exceeds deductions two or more years in a period of five consecutive years. Similarly, horse operations gain the favorable presumption if gross income exceeds deductions in two out of seven consecutive years. The popular interpretation of the effect of Section 183(d), however, is that if a taxpayer fails to qualify for the presumption, he will be faced with a difficult burden of proving that his activity is engaged in as a profit-making venture.

Old rule v. new rule

Section 270, the so-called "hobby loss" rule which has been repealed for years beginning after 1969, generally limited to $50,000 per year the amount of losses incurred in an individual's trade or business which could be offset against other income. The limitation only applied, however, where the losses exceeded $50,000 in five consecutive years. Once losses in excess of $50,000 were sustained for five consecutive years, a statutory provision allowed for a deficiency assessment for all of the years, even beyond the normal three-year statute of limitations. In computing the loss from the trade or business, taxes, interest, casualty losses, and certain otherwise deductible items were excluded.

The Commissioner was successful in applying the hobby loss provision in only a handful of cases. Most taxpayers, through a careful timing of income and deductions, were able to avoid the five-year loss penalty.

Section 183, applicable for years beginning after 1969, represents an attempt by Congress to codify what had become the judicial rule in the hobby loss cases. As stated in House Report No. 91-413, 91st Cong. 1st Sess. of the House Ways and Means Committee: "... some court cases have provided another basis on which the loss can be denied; namely, that the activity carried on by the taxpayer from which the loss results is not a business but a hobby. Your committee believes that this basic principle provides a better basis for distinguishing situations where taxpayers are not carrying on a business for profit, but rather are merely attempting to utilize the losses from the operation to offset their other income."

Generally, in the past the courts have examined several factors in determining whether the breeding and raising of horses and cattle for sale constituted a trade or business. The following facts, among others, have been cited as indicia of profit-making intent:

1. The stables were run in a businesslike manner, with capable trainers, jockeys, etc., sound business practices and methods, and formal books and records. Whitney, 73 F.2d 589 (CA-3, 1934).

2. The taxpayer maintained close personal attention and supervision over the operations as he would over other types of business activities. Amory, 22 BTA 1398.

3. The taxpayer was knowledgeable in money matters. Clark, 24 BTA 1235.

4. The racing establishment was not a show place in any sense, and taxpayer was not a man with social aspirations. Clark, supra.

On the other hand, profit-making intent was found lacking where:

1. The taxpayer derived great pleasure and personal satisfaction from the horse operations. Luce, TCM 1970-203.

2. Taxpayer could well afford the losses. Luce, supra.

3. The venture was run in an unbusinesslike manner. Luce, supra.

4. There was no sustained effort to sell the horses. Luce, supra.

Section 183 incorporates judicial practice by: (1) disallowing a deduction for activities not engaged in for profit, and (2) establishing a presumption that the activity is engaged in for profit only if the activity generates net income in two out of seven years, in the case of the breeding, training, showing, or racing of horses, and in two out of five years for all other activities. Items such as interest and taxes will continue to be deductible notwithstanding the new Section. In the past, under challenge by the Service, the taxpayer had the burden of proof that the activity was engaged in for profit. Under Section 183, however, where profits are generated in two out of seven years, in horse operations, or two out of five years in other activities, the Service will have the burden of proving that the activity was not engaged in for profit.

As originally enacted, Section 183 would not have been effective in disallowing losses in cattle operations until the end of 1973, the fourth year subject to the new law or, in the case of horse operations, until 1975, the sixth year subject to the new law. In addition, Section 183, unlike old Section 270, did not provide for deficiency assessments beyond the normal three-year statute of limitations. In December 1971, however, Congress passed the Revenue Act of 1971 which added Section 183(e) to the Code. This provision holds that if a taxpayer desires to apply the two-out-of-five or two-out-of-seven year test, he must execute an election which provides for a waiver of the statute of limitations for the entire five or seven-year period. If a taxpayer does not elect to apply Section 183(e), the Service is not bound to apply the two-out-of-five or two-out-of-seven year test and may propose immediate deficiency assessments. If the election is made and the activity does not produce two years of income by 1974, in the case of cattle operations, or 1976, in the case of horse operations, the Service will assess the entire period. For example, if the taxpayer incurs $100,000 losses in his horse operations for each year, 1970-1975, the deficiency for a 70% bracket taxpayer would be $420,000 ($$100,000 \times 6 \text{ yrs.} \times 70\%$) plus accrued interest. Thus, the cost of failing the two-out-of-seven year test could be too much of a gamble for even the most venturesome horseman.

Regulations under Section 183

The primary thrust of the Regulations under Section 183 is found in Reg. 1.183-2(b) which discusses the relevant factors used to determine whether an activity is engaged in for profit:

1. The manner in which the taxpayer carries on the activity. A change of operating methods, adoption of new techniques or abandonment of unprofitable methods in a manner consistent with an intent to improve profitability may also indicate a profit motive.

2. The expertise of the taxpayer or his advisers. Preparation for the activity of extensive study or consultation with those who are expert may indicate that the taxpayer has a profit motive.

3. The time and effort expended by the taxpayer in carrying on the activity. The fact that the taxpayer devotes much of his personal time and effort to carrying on an activity, particularly if the activity does not have substantial personal or recreational aspects, may indicate an intention to derive a profit.

4. Expectation that assets used in activity may appreciate in value. The taxpayer may intend to derive a profit from the operation of the activity, and may also intend that, even if no profit from current operations is derived, an overall profit will result when appreciation in the value of land used in the activity is realized.

5. The success of the taxpayer in carrying on other similar or dissimilar activities. The fact that the taxpayer has engaged in similar activities in the past and converted them from unprofitable to profitable enterprises may indicate that he is engaged in the present activity for profit, even though the activity is presently unprofitable.

6. The taxpayer's history of income or losses with respect to the activity. Where losses continue to be sustained beyond the period which customarily is necessary to bring the operation to profitable status such continued losses, if not explainable as to customary business risks or reverses, may be indicative that the activity is not being engaged in for profit.

7. The amount of occasional profits, if any, which are earned. An occasional small profit from an activity generating large losses, or from an activity in which the taxpayer has made a large investment, would not generally be determinative that the activity is engaged in for profit.

8. The financial status of the taxpayer. Substantial income from sources other than the activity (particularly if the losses from the activity generate substantial tax benefits) may indicate that the activity is not engaged in for profit.

9. Elements of personal pleasure or recreation. The presence of personal motives in carrying on of an activity may indicate that the activity is not engaged in for profit, especially where there are recreational or personal elements involved.

The factors, as listed above, correspond closely to yardsticks historically applied by the courts in deciding the factual question of whether an activity has been engaged in for profit. An analysis of the various factors as they relate to a particular taxpayer's situation should provide a basis for a determination of his potential tax exposure under the Regulations.

the two-out-of-five or two-out-of-seven year test is not met.

The seriousness of the effect of the new tax laws on horse operations is reflected in the following statement appearing in the July 12, 1972 issue of the "Tax Reference Service Bulletin," published by the American Horse Council: "If loopholes did exist in the farm area, they were closed by the action of Congress in 1969. In fact, the full impact of the 1969 Tax Reform Act on horse farming has not yet been fully felt, and numerous horse owners are concerned that the industry will eventually be destroyed by the 1969 provisions."

Incorporation: a solution

Section 183 applies to horse and cattle operations conducted by an individual or a Subchapter S corporation. The Senate Finance Committee Report No. 91-552, 91st Cong. 1st Sess. 104, expressly excluded regular corporations from the purview of Section 183:

"The committee amendments do not apply to corporate taxpayers (other than shareholders of subchapter S corporations), as did the House bill, since it is primarily in the case of individual taxpayers that the problem arises of a taxpayer entering into an activity to obtain a loss from the activity which is used to offset other income. In addition, the application of the provision to corporations would present a number of difficulties, such as its effect on shared facilities provided on a cost basis. No inference should be drawn from this action in the case of a corporation, however, as to whether or not any activity of the corporation is a business, or is engaged in for profit, for purposes of the tax laws."

Simply transferring horse or cattle operations to a corporation would provide no tax benefits to the taxpayer-stockholder. Net operating losses from the horse or cattle operations could only be carried forward to offset future operating income of the corporation. A necessary step, therefore, would be to transfer enough income-producing property to the corporation to offset the expected losses from the horse or cattle operations which, as a practical matter, could be the same income-producing property presently generating the funds to operate the livestock operations in the proprietorship form.

It would appear that the Internal Revenue Service has two weapons with which to attack horse and cattle operations operated in corporate form:

1. The argument that the operation is not a business at all but merely a hobby would appear to be available. The Service has had only minimal success with this argument in the past. In effect, Section 183 and the Regulations thereunder represent an attempt, in part, to lend statutory support to this approach and Congress's unwillingness to extend the new rules to regular corporations could lead to reasoning by the courts that the rules should not apply to corporations.

2. The rationale as developed in Borge, 405 F.2d 673 (CA-2, 1969), that the hobby was incorporated to avoid disallowances at the individual level, may apply. There, Victor Borge, a well-known entertainer, operated a rock cornish hen business from April 1952 through February 1959. For each of the years 1954 through 1957 the poultry losses exceeded $50,000. Borge's tax consultant advised him that if the poultry losses for 1958 exceeded $50,000, the Commissioner would recompute Borge's taxes for each year the losses exceeded $50,000, pursuant to Section 270 of the Code. Accordingly, in March of 1958, Borge organized a corporation, Danica, and transferred the poultry business to it. Since Danica had no means of meeting the expected losses from the poultry business, Borge entered into a contract with Danica whereby for a salary of $50,000 per year Borge, in effect, transferred all his income from entertainment and promotional services to the corporation. For the period 1959 through 1963, the entertainment and promotional income to Danica, before Borge's salary, averaged $166,465. It was obvious Borge would not have entered into such an agreement with an unrelated party.

ances not otherwise available, the Commissioner may disallow the deduction or allowance. . . . Since Borge's purpose in organizing Danica was avoidance of the $50,000 per year loss limitation of Section 270, the Commissioner did not act unreasonably in disallowing, under Section 269, deductions for subsequent years in excess of $50,000—deductions which Borge would have been denied if Danica had not been organized."

In Borge, since the poultry losses had exceeded $50,000 in four consecutive years and were on their way to a fifth year, the tax avoidance motive was rather obvious. If, however, a taxpayer's cattle or horse operations are incorporated well before he is in jeopardy of failing the two-out-of-five or two-out-of-seven year test under Section 183, the tax avoidance motive might not be so obvious. In addition, if the taxpayer incorporates his livestock operations for reasons other than tax reasons, i.e., he establishes a business purpose for the incorporation, he should be able to avoid the rationale of Borge.

In Stoltzfus, TCM 1970-337, the Service attempted to disallow a deduction for horse breeding losses incurred by a corporation conducting a profitable quarry operation. Holding for the taxpayer, the court denied the Service's argument that the separate corporate existence be ignored. Said the court: "it is . . . settled law that a taxpayer may adopt any form he wishes for the conduct of his business . . . as long as the form selected is a viable business entity. In other words, the taxpayer (corporation) must have been created for a substantive business purpose and must have actually engaged in substantive business activity. . . ."

A taxpayer, depending on his particular circumstances, may be able to cite one or more of the following business reasons for incorporating his horse or cattle operations:

1. Stock in the corporation can be easily transferred for purposes of gift, compensation of employees, and sale to third parties.

2. The advantage of limited liability in the corporate form is desirable.

3. An increased sense of business purpose can be expected to result through operating in the corporate form.

4. A corporation would provide a useful vehicle through which other business ventures, unrelated to the horse or cattle business, could be conducted.

An additional advantage might be available to a taxpayer who incorporated only one segment of his horse or cattle operation. For example, a taxpayer who both races and breeds thoroughbreds might incorporate only his breeding stables. The division of his operations into two entities would allow flexibility in the "creation" of income in selected years without having to sell valuable horses to outside parties. Taxable income could be generated in the racing operation, for example, by selling horses to the breeding operation. The same advantage would appear to be available to a cattle operator who maintained both a feeder lot operation and a breeding herd.

Conclusion

It is not suggested that incorporating a taxpayer's horse or cattle operations can completely insure against the disallowance of any losses. However, for the taxpayer who is torn between the spectre of potentially large tax assessments on one hand, and his desire to continue his horse or cattle business on the other, the potential advantages of incorporating his operations may represent the deciding factor. ☆

New Tax Book Printed

The National Thoroughbred Foundation is publishing a new edition of its book, "Racing and the Income Tax," which deals with the subject of whether the sport is a business or a hobby for federal income tax purposes.

Congress in the Tax Reform Act classified racing as a "business of farming," and the new edition of "Racing and the Income Tax" will include the regulations issued by the Internal Revenue Service under this provision and the new and related "hobby" provisions which also were included in the Tax Reform Act.

The basic question is still whether a taxpayer's "farm" activities are conducted for profit. The old U.S. Board of Tax Appeals which has been replaced by the U.S. Tax Court, and the federal courts have been called on to rule on this issue many times since the first income tax law was enacted. These decisions as they may affect Thoroughbred racing, Harness racing, Quarter Horse racing, show horses and gentleman farming will appear in the new edition of "Racing and the Income Tax" which has become the accepted reference authority on the business vs. hobby issue.

Still other decisions that will be found in the new edition deal with the tax questions encountered in the conduct of breeding and racing as a business such as treatment of capital gains and losses; obsolescence and depreciation, and operating expenses. Inquiries about the book should be addressed to the National Thoroughbred Foundation, P.O. Box 578, Washington, D.C. 20044.

THE PORTABLE
PADDOCK FOR THOROUGHBREDS!

Easy to assemble and transport from one track to another.

Give horses new health and vitality with more fresh air, sunshine and freedom.

Adjustable to size to suit the temperament and disposition of spirited Thoroughbreds.

Safety and control out of stalls without constant attention by grooms allows more time for other duties and horses.

When assembled in circle it makes a perfect small cooling off pen.

No stakes or ground fasteners are required. The Port-A-Pad has been designed and tested by expert horsemen. Can't hurt horses because all rough ends and bolt ends are on outside to prevent scratches and rubbing.

Each eight foot section has a top and bottom rail and a center support for extra strength.

Available in Hot Rip Galvanized, Aluminum or Green Vinyl Wire.

LOW COST — order Port-A-Pad in a few sections or the recommended 12 sections and gate panel for a full exercise circle, approximately 38 feet in diameter.

EASILY ERECTED two men can move and erect the Port-A-Pad in a few minutes. Takes very little storage space on trucks or in stables when not in use.

MARYLAND'S WAY

The Hammond - Harwood House Cook Book
Mrs. Lewis R. Andrews and Mrs. J. Reaney Kelly
The Hammond - Harwood House Association,
1963

Price $6.75

A new edition of a delightful book (first published in 1966) is on the shelf. The best way to describe it is to quote the frontispiece: "Maryland's Way—as told by a collection of traditional receipts selected from three centuries of Maryland cooking with 145 illustrations of the Maryland scene which inspired it."

Photographs by A. Aubrey Bodine and Francis E. Engle capture the charm of the Maryland landscape from the hunt country of Baltimore county to the Eastern Shore. Excellent sketches, wood-engravings and etchings add to the visual pleasure of this unique volume which combines historical notes with time-tested receipts.

Some of the receipts are presented in their original form with oddly spelled words and puzzling phrases. Most, however, have been updated and tested in modern kitchens.

Many complete menus are given. Of particular note is the Maryland Hunt Cup Picnic Hamper, which starts off with Mint Juleps and unpacks its way through fried chicken, deviled eggs, home-baked bread and ham for sandwiches, a chilled garden bowl of watercress, cucumbers, lettuce and tomato wedges, to Maryland fudge cake.

The card for a Maryland Hunt Breakfast offers an eye-opening choice between Maryland rye whiskey or hot apple toddy to prepare the diners for the procession of platters to follow: roast suckling pig, baked ham and turkey supported by side dishes of sauerkraut, hominy, broccoli and tomatoes brown; add the spoon bread, the cornmeal sticks and the condiment selections and then decide how much room will be left for the pumpkin and mince pie, the plum pudding and the sponge cakes. If this be "breakfast"—

This handsome book may find its home in the kitchen or on the library shelf—wherever its niche, it will be thoroughly enjoyed.

Marion E. Warren's Annapolis snow scene is one of many charming photographs illustrating the book "Maryland's Way."

THE HORSE TODAY—AND TOMORROW?

Kurt Jeschko and Harald Lange
Arco Publishing Company, Inc., 1972
Price $15.00

Historically the horse has been man's companion for centuries. Many examples in art and literature illustrate the close relationship between horse and man. In the British Museum there are more than 200 models of horses on the Greek Parthenon friezes; a horse prophesies the death of Achilles in the Iliad. Man has been aware of the usefulness and power of the horse for at least 5,000 years. Down the pages of history ride the conquerors mounted on ancestors of today's horses.

This literary tribute to the horse raises the question: what position will the horse have in the future? Armies no longer use horses for conquest; even the farmer has mechanized his horse power. With the growth of cities to the suburbs and beyond, land for grazing a single horse is at a premium. Today, the horse is becoming a luxury item that few people can enjoy. With the exception of specially chosen specimens, carefully bred for various types of racing and showing, horses are disappearing from the landscape.

The authors have written a text that is crammed with information, covering the evolution of the horse, through his domestication by man for several thousand years, to his present status in today's crowded world. The smooth-flowing commentary is exciting reading and never didactic in style. An index and pagination, if included, would make this a very useful reference work.

The photographs alone are well worth the price of the book; there are over 200 of them, taken all over the world, and not one is stagy or posed. There are pictures of horses racing, grazing, working and playing, and simply being horses.

Open House Set For October 24

Members and friends of the Maryland Horse Breeders Association are invited to attend an open house at the association's new headquarters on the afternoon of October 24. Cocktails will be served beginning at 4 o'clock.

This date coincides with the first session of the three-day Maryland Fall Sales which will be held at Timonium on October 24, 25, and 26. During this auction there will be 514 horses offered, the group breaking down into 231 broodmares, 84 weanlings, 118 yearlings, 74 horses of racing age, six stallions and seven stallion shares.

Quite obviously, the MHBA's open house will end well before Hip No. 1 enters the ring.

To those of you who have not seen our new quarters in the Padonia Building at 201 West Padonia road, we extend a special invitation. We are proud of our offices and wish to take this opportunity to thank publicly the building's owner, Frank Favazza, for his generosity in paneling and carpeting our Board room.

If there is any member who resents the $5 increase in breeder-owner dues which will go into effect on January 1, we suggest that that member visit with us at our open house. Our open bar will give that member a chance to get even.
